India is renowned for being a country of festivals and celebrations, with Lohri being one of them that is distinctive in its meaning and perspective. Festivals are a time for festivity and bring everyone together in harmony. The holiday encourages people to give thanks for God's supplies and to enjoy his works of art. On January 13, 2023, Lohri was enthusiastically observed on the grounds of the Laureate Institute of Pharmacy. The teachers and students were all in a festive mood, and the atmosphere on campus was positive. Everyone arrived dressed festively and appropriately for the event. At 1:00 PM, the celebration got under way. The campfire is one of Lohri's primary symbols. Throughout history, lighting the fire has been a common practise for winter festivals, and to everyone around the globe, it denotes the beginning of longer days. Beautiful paintings created by our pupils served as the preparation. The festival thus began with the lighting of a bonfire and the "Lohri Poojan." On the eve of the festival, Dr. CPS Verma, the institute's dean of student welfare, welcomed the teachers and students in attendance and emphasised the importance of culture. Groundnuts and sweets were also given to the students as they worshipped "Dhooni." Everyone sang and danced around the campfire after Poojan. The harvest holiday of Lohri is celebrated in Punjab, which is also referred to as the breadbasket of India. Irrespective of which state or religion people belong to, Lohri was celebrated with equal enthusiasm by everyone. The day ended on a high note with a delightful sweet's distribution. The function was closed at 03:00 PM with blessing notes by Dr. CPS Verma. No matter what state or religion a person belonged to, they all observed Lohri with equal fervour. With the sharing of a delicious sweet, the day came to a successful

Report on Girls Hygiene and Safety

Good menstrual hygiene is essential for the health and dignity of girls and women. Discussions on menstrual hygiene are important for adolescent girls to clarify existing myths and misconceptions around menstruation. Improving menstrual hygiene is important from the point of view of personal comfort and increased mobility. It also reduces the likelihood of infections resulting from poor hygiene practices during menstruation. Providing girls with knowledge and skills on maintaining menstrual hygiene improves college attendance among girls, who otherwise may not attend college during those days or even drop out of college altogether. A guest lecture was delivered by Dr. Pallavi Singh on how to promote the hygiene and who can promote hygiene. These topics were discussed in the conference hall of Laureate institute of pharmacy on 10th march 2023. The main points were discussed in this event are

- Provision of health education to girls and women on menstruation and menstrual hygiene.
- Increasing community action to improve access to clean toilets with water, both at home and in schools.
- Promoting the availability and use of sanitary products.
- Enabling safe disposal of sanitary products.
- Menstrual Hygiene can be promoted in the community and in schools or colleges.
- It is best to start with adolescent girls; although, other women in the reproductive age group would also benefit from the information and access to sanitary products.
- The Anganwadi Workers and the members of women's Self-Help Groups can make a substantial difference to menstrual hygiene practices in the community.
