Seminar by District Welfare Officer:

The day commenced with an insightful seminar delivered by a district welfare officer of Social Justice and Empowerment, Jawalamukhi. The representative provided valuable information about the current scenario of drug abuse, its impact on individuals and society, and the role of government initiatives in combating this issue. The seminar emphasized the need for collaborative efforts to address the multifaceted challenges posed by drug abuse.

Awareness Rally in Kathog Village:

Following the seminar, NSS volunteers took the initiative to organize an awareness rally in Kathog village. The rally aimed to disseminate information about the harmful consequences of drug abuse and encourage the community to actively participate in creating a drug-free environment. The enthusiastic NSS volunteers, armed with banners and placards, marched through the village, engaging with residents and spreading the message of the International Day Against Drug Abuse.

Participation and Impact:

Approximately 150 participants, including students, faculty members, and local residents, actively took part in the event. The engagement of the community in the rally was particularly noteworthy, with individuals expressing their commitment to eradicating drug abuse from their surroundings.

Conclusion:

The International Day Against Drug Abuse celebration organized by the NSS Unit of Laureate Institute of Pharmacy, in collaboration with the Department of Social Justice and Empowerment, Jawalamukhi, was a resounding success. The combination of an informative seminar and an impactful awareness rally effectively conveyed the message of the harmful effects of drug abuse. The event not only educated the participants but also inspired a sense of responsibility within the community to collectively combat the menace of drug abuse.

The NSS unit remains dedicated to promoting social awareness and contributing to the betterment of society through such impactful initiatives.
